

---

The French Literary Review

---

Editor: Barbara Dordi

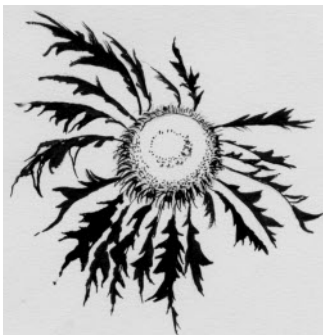

'A lively and gorgeously printed 'small' magazine of work by lovers of France and things French who do and do not reside there.'

Fred Johnston, Director, The Western Writers' Centre, Galway

'The French Literary review is a smart magazine with a new, unusual spin: high quality prose and poetry written in English, but with a connection to France. There is a satisfying coherence in the magazine because of its consistent link to the country and language, and this, combined with a wide range of styles and approaches make it an exciting and unique publication.'

Jacqueline Saphra - poet, playwright and screenwriter

The Cardabelle
by Russi Dordi
pen and ink - Issue 8

A twice-yearly international literary magazine of poetry and prose, The French Literary Review aims to bring together writers not only from France but also to welcome anyone in the world who has a French connection in their writing.

The magazine is in A5 format and stapled. We publish in black and white, with a cream cover, in the tradition of French academic publications. In every issue, two or three sketches/paintings illustrate chosen pieces of writing. There is also a reviews section.

We welcome lively, contemporary writing: poems, short stories, articles and extracts from novels which stand on their own - all of which should have a French connection.

Standing Nude
by Barry Elphick
charcoal - Issue 8

Contributors have included Ann Drysdale, William Oxley, Gregory Warren Wilson, Carole Satyamurti, Fred Johnston, Jacqueline Saphra, Maggie Butt, Nicole Lemaire d'Agaggio, Nigel Humphreys, Graham High, Anne Stewart, Wendy French and Valerie Josephs.

The French Literary Review is a non-profit making journal which relies on subscriptions.

Please address correspondence to: B. Dordi, chemin de Cambieure, 11240 Cailhau, Aude, France dordi.barbara@aliceadsl.fr                      www.barbaradordi.blogspot.com

2 issues    UK/Europe £9 or 13 euros (inc. postage)

Rest of world £13 or 18 euros (inc.postage)

4 issues    UK/Europe £17.50 or 25 euros (inc postage)

Rest of world £24.50 or 35 euros (inc postage)

single copies: UK/Europe £5 or 8 euros (inc. postage)

Please note: cheques should be made payable to: B. Dordi